PAUL BOYLON

FOUNDER & DIRECTOR

Hello and welcome to the 10th Annual Cabaret Fringe Festival.

As one of the founders, I have seen it grow into a celebration of the art and culture in Adelaide, which I believe is the lifeblood of this fabulous Festival State we live in. Art for me is tomorrow's reality. Everything we see, touch and use has a little bit of art within it. Whether that be by design, or just by an individual expression of the creator, these ideas or fashions start from somewhere. I am very honoured to have been a facilitator, creating space for cabaret performers to develop and share their ideas and art.

JENNIFER KINGWELL

CREATIVE DIRECTOR

Cabaret Fringe is a platform to present fiercely fringe art which encompasses the satire, the torch song, the wit, the pathos, the sublime, the ridiculous, the yearning romance that underpins a genre stemming back over a century. It's an art form that continues to grow, to transmutate, to wrap welcoming arms around the outsiders and thumb its nose at the establishment. Cabaret Fringe is an exploration and an explosion of art and artists across the form, from circus to original songs, nerdlesque to drag and much more. I'm excited for the opportunities the Festival provides for artists to perform and produce fierce, independent and daring cabaret that stirs emotions, provokes thought and pushes boundaries. I'm also delighted to welcome our inaugural Ambassadors - artists who embody the values of this Festival and exemplify the talent and ingenuity of cabaret performers in Australia. Viva la cabare!

MAMA ALTO
CABARET FRINGE AMBASSADOR

I am beyond thrilled to be an Ambassador for Adelaide Cabaret Fringe Festival in 2017. The cabaret art form is very dear to my sequined heart, and the importance of the relationship between the independent arts fringe and the art form of cabaret cannot be underestimated.

Integral and vital to the storytelling medium of cabaret is its inherent capability to take voices and experiences from the margins and the marginalised, and centre them in the middle of culture and society. Those margins and intersections - of gender and sexuality, race and class, love and loss, and lived human experiences - become recognisable and universal through the empathy of song and story.

The rise of fringe festivals worldwide, giving independent and emerging artists a platform to develop and showcase their storytelling craft, so poignantly and powerfully complements this marginality of the cabaret form.

How perfect and fitting it is that Adelaide, which hosts significant festivals for both cabaret and fringe, is home to a Cabaret Fringe. Welcome to our world - revel in it with us. I look forward to seeing you at Adelaide Cabaret Fringe Festival in 2017.

Much love - Rise up singing.

See Mama Alto in 'Mama Alto: Torch Songs' - La Bohème, 10:30pm 3rd June, 3pm & 7pm 4th June (pg. 21)

ANYA ANASTASIA
CABARET FRINGE AMBASSADOR

Welcome to the Cabaret Fringe. Fringe is my home, my network, my backyard, and it's yours too. It's global. I live between the Edinburgh Fringe, the Adelaide Fringe, the Melbourne Fringe, the Prague Fringe, and now the Adelaide Cabaret Fringe, to name a few. This global community is the home and breeding ground of ideas. Uncensored, ungoverned, wild, raw and rich with passion straight from the source. Often from the brain of the one that created it, to the ears and eyes of those who happened to get a flyer for it thrust into their hand in the street. What an incredibly unique and powerful force this is at such a time in history... a platform for the independent exploration and expression of new ideas; for resistance against or the challenging of existing ideals or structures.

Be a part of these ideas at their conception, or at their birth, before they get refined, smoothed over, made more palatable and the roguish ones reworked or consigned to history. Art is one of the most powerful vehicles for resistance, questioning, searching, and defiance. The act of joy in the face of fear, or the act of controversy in an environment of political correctness.

We are artists. It is our job to disturb the comfortable and comfort the disturbed. We're living in a world where so much of what we hear and read is controlled by mysterious forces. There's fake news, censored news, and news feeds that are custom designed to make us feel good to keep us hooked into the advertising machine.

We invite you to come to the cabaret, to see and hear something you weren't expecting, and didn't even know you were searching for. Fringe is where all the free-thinkers gather and conspire. Did I mention? It's also where all the best parties are.

See Anya Anastasia in 'The New Cabaret Experiment' - Henrietta's, 7pm 12th-17th June (pg. 25)

MIKELANGELO
CABARET FRINGE AMBASSADOR

I grew up in a creative household, and my mum and dad weren't big on labels. So it's not surprising that my music has rarely been able to be pigeonholed or contained by a particular genre. I've always been drawn to songs because of the way they make me feel, how they can bind us together, how they can change our lives. I think that may be why cabaret has claimed me. The joy of cabaret is that it isn't defined by a single genre. It's even hard to say this is a cabaret song, and this isn't. Cabaret is more of a state of mind; a desire to connect with people; to share in an intimate and transporting experience; to embark on a journey on the wild and unruly roller coaster of life - through the happiness and the pain, the fragility and the exuberance, the banality, the hilarity, the irony and the wonder. This rush of life is also the very heart of Fringe. While performing at fringe festivals around the world, I've seen everything, from the most magical to the most mundane. Fringe is the most inclusive artistic forum I've encountered, and when you put this together with cabaret, the possibilities are truly exciting.

If you are reading this, then you already have an open heart and an open mind. Let yourself explore this fabulous festival, try things you've never seen before, get lost in the vibrant world of Cabaret Fringe, and it may just change your life.

See Mikangelo in 'Tower of Song: Celebrating the music of Leonard Cohen' - Freemasons Hall, 5pm 3rd June (pg.26) & 'Mikangelo: The Best Of...' at La Bohème, 9pm 4th June (pg. 22)

HANS
CABARET FRINGE AMBASSADOR

Adelaide has established the centre of cabaret in Australia and the Adelaide Cabaret Fringe Festival has been at the forefront of the charge. Throughout the past decade, the festival has helped nurture and launch the careers and talents of many emerging cabaret artists. It's also given established acts somewhere to experiment with new material which is both exciting and thrilling for local audiences.

More importantly, the Cabaret Fringe has given a creative platform to local, South Australian artists and opportunities for them to develop their talents.

As a performer and an audience member, some of my favourite cabaret memories have been made and witnessed at this festival and I'm thrilled to be representing the Adelaide Cabaret Fringe as an ambassador this year.
