ADELAIDE BAND 'THE FABULETTES' ANNOUNCE CABARET FESTIVAL SHOWS

PRESS RELEASE DATE:

29th APRIL 2015

After a successful debut at the Adelaide Fringe Festival earlier this year, and frequent performances around Adelaide, 1960's-inspired band, The Fabulettes, have announced a series of new shows for their first Adelaide Cabaret Festival in June 2015.

The 8-piece ensemble, led by Ali Crook, and backing vocalists Jenn Barrett and Joh Nicholls, is inspired by Motown, funk and soul music.

The band's other members including Bill Cornish, Joe Small, Damien Williams, Cass Douglas and Brandon Lawrence have a vast range of performance experience.

The Fabulettes first venture into the Cabaret Festival is an exciting addition to the group's schedule, which vocalist Ali Crook describes as "... a tribute to the incredibly talented, indomitable female artists of the sixties."

This past few months has seen the group reformat their already strong catalogue of songs into an exciting new show, set to premier at the Promethean on the 20th and 27th of June. The show entitled 'She's so Fine! Women of the 60s' features songs from British pop artists, Motown, American girl groups and soulful sisters.

Tickets are available from the Adelaide Cabaret Festival website, at www.adelaidecabaretfestival.com.

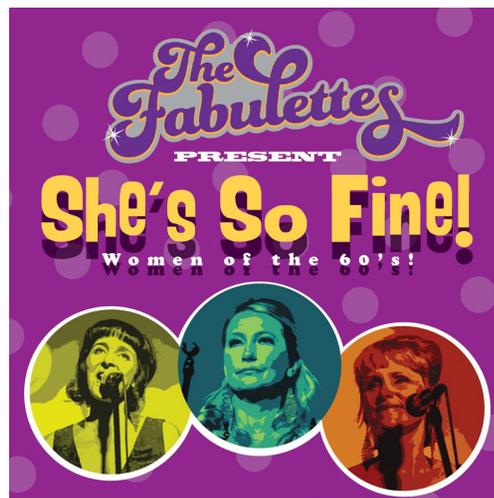

See the show, June 20 & 27 at the Promethean, 116 Grote Street, Adelaide.
